“Seeds of Hope: Living the Jubilee as a Way of Life”

The Jubilee Year 2025 stands as a sacred threshold in the life of the Church, inviting the faithful worldwide to pause, reflect, and renew their faith. This season of grace and fresh beginnings is deeply rooted in the biblical tradition of the Old Testament. In the Book of Leviticus, every fiftieth year was consecrated as a time of profound social and economic reset, a moment of complete liberation where debts were forgiven, prisoners were freed, and land was restored. Today, this spirit of radical mercy continues as a supreme moment of spiritual renewal offered to all.

Pope Francis envisions this modern Jubilee as an essential spiritual journey marked by hope. He recognizes the stark contradictions of our modern era: while we witness breathtaking technological progress, we also face deep loneliness; despite global connectivity, isolation grows; and economic advancements often fail to eliminate persistent poverty. The Jubilee invites us to stand resolutely against despair and become agents of hope. It calls us to undertake an interior pilgrimage, a transformative journey from the burdens of sin to the lightness of grace. For our provinces and communities, this pilgrimage is understood through four interconnected journeys:

1. A Journey of Repentance: Repentance is the foundational step of renewal. It demands an honest self-assessment, recognizing patterns of behaviour that harm ourselves or others. This is not a journey of guilt, but one of liberation, turning away from what diminishes life to embrace what gives it. In the Jubilee spirit, this journey seeks to restore integrity and regain inner freedom.

2. A Journey of Reconciliation: Forgiveness is the first step of any true pilgrimage. Reconciliation is the heart of the Jubilee, calling us to mend broken relationships with God, our families, and ourselves. It requires the humility to rebuild trust and remove barriers of resentment. Through reconciliation, we restore unity and become authentic witnesses of God’s unconditional mercy.

3. A Journey of Joy: Joy is the unmistakable sign of God’s presence. As pilgrims, we are invited to rediscover the deep-seated joy that flows from the knowledge that we are unconditionally loved. This joy transcends circumstances, springing from the assurance of God’s constant presence. Through prayer and community, we celebrate the gifts of faith, hope, and love.

4. A Journey of Mission: The Jubilee does not end with personal renewal; it sends us forth. Every individual is called to become a "Pilgrim of Hope" by sharing mercy with the world. This means standing in solidarity with the vulnerable, promoting justice, and being tangible signs of hope where suffering prevails. We are called to embrace a missionary heart, becoming instruments of love.

In this framework, mercy is the road, reconciliation the milestone, and hope the destination. Every step taken in faith becomes a seed of hope for the world. The Jubilee transforms from a year of celebration into a renewed way of living, a joyful, compassionate life. Let us walk together as beacons of hope, for the hope we have in God will never disappoint us.

Pilgrims of Hope: A Call to Renewal and Reconciliation

The Jubilee Year 2025, declared by Pope Francis, is a significant moment that bridges biblical wisdom with contemporary moral challenges. Central to this sacred time is the theme of hope—a theological virtue that anchors our faith. It is a designated season for spiritual renewal, pilgrimage, and forgiveness, inviting the faithful to embark on a journey of hope and to renew our collective commitment to love and peace.

Biblical and Theological Foundations

The concept of the Jubilee originates in the Old Testament, specifically in Leviticus 25:10: “You shall consecrate the fiftieth year and proclaim liberty throughout the land... it shall be a jubilee for you.” This divine command established a sacred arrangement for social reordering, preventing permanent economic inequality and ensuring restoration for all. Similarly, Deuteronomy 15:1 calls for the remission of debts every seventh year.

These commands were not merely for individuals but aimed at a total social transformation centred on justice and equality. In the New Testament, Jesus explicitly connects His mission to this tradition in Luke 4:18–19, proclaiming "the year of the Lord’s Favor." Fundamentally, the Jubilee envisions the restoration of right relationships with God, our neighbour, and all of creation.

Solidarity with the Marginalized

The moral vision of the 2025 Jubilee demands solidarity with the vulnerable. Pope Francis encourages us to embody "signs of hope" by drawing close to prisoners, the sick, the elderly, migrants, and those living in poverty. He asserts that where injustice grows, peace cannot exist; therefore, the Jubilee must be a catalyst for building peace through justice.

The Holy Father reminds us that we are all "indebted" to God, who forgives us with infinite mercy. In response, we are called to forgive those who have wronged us, imagining a world where the "globalization of indifference" is replaced by a globalization of charity.

Personal and Communal Transformation

Jubilee is not only about changing external structures but about the transformation of the human heart. Mercy is not a "political strategy" but a form of love that opens hearts to mutual acceptance and humility. By reflecting on the Gospel mission to bring "good news to the poor," we allow the flame of hope to spread to those who seek it.

In our province, this spirit was brought to life through monthly prayers, virtual talks on the Bull of Indiction, renewal retreats, ally that of the poor—and strengthens the faith of the people. Personally, I feel enriched by these spiritual activities, which have brought me closer to God. I am deeply thankful for the gift of life that allows me to witness and experience the grace of the Jubilee Year 2025.

FACE OF JESUS IS SEEN IN THE POOR AND HUNGRY

In the 2025 Global Hunger Index, India ranks 102nd out of 123 countries with sufficient data to calculate 2025 GHI scores. With a score of 25.8 in the 2025 Global Hunger Index, India has a level of hunger that is serious.

In 2023, the percentage of the world's population facing hunger was approximately 9.1%, affecting about 733 million people. This is equivalent to about 1 in 11 people globally. This figure represents a stubborn high after years of increase, with a related UN report stating that 1 in 5 people in Africa faced hunger.

From Bull of Indiction article 15 & 16, Hunger is often the quietest cry-one that goes unheard amid louder political and economic priorities. Pope Francis has stated unequivocally: “Hunger is criminal; food is an inalienable right.” hunger is not merely a logistical failure but a moral one. Each day we meet people who are poor or impoverished; they may even be our next-door neighbours. Often, they are homeless or lack sufficient food for the day. They suffer from exclusion and indifference on the part of many. Hunger is a scandal, an open wound on the body of our humanity, and it summons all of us to a serious examination of conscience.

Taken from Matters India, Paradox of Plenty, the world today produces enough food to nourish every one of its eight-plus billion inhabitants. Yet one in eleven people still goes to bed hungry each night, and women and children constitute nearly 60 percent of those suffering chronic hunger. Decades ago, John F. Kennedy warned: “We have the means to eliminate hunger from the face of the earth. We only need the will.” The warning remains painfully relevant. Catherine Russel, executive director of UNICEF, said: “In a world of plenty, there is no excuse for children to go hungry or die of malnutrition.

God told the nation of Israel that feeding the hungry was an important part of true religion: “Spend yourselves in behalf of the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed then your light will rise in the darkness, and your night will become like the noonday.” Is 58:10

Mt 25:35 ‘For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat.’ Whoever gives to the poor will not want, but he who hides his eyes will get many a curse. Prov. 28:35. Reflecting and realizing the above truth, the reality of the present world and the people, in solidarity, and taking into consideration of the poor families, having blessed by God the Almighty for His bounty the province and the institutions of JMJ decided to feed the poor and hungry, the aged living alone none to care for, though our help is a drop in the Ocean the Kurnool Sacred Heart Community is distributing needed groceries every month for 5 families, and as well as to the Carmelite sisters food grains are being given every month, with firm conviction that the miracles, after all, often begin with small acts of courage and compassion.

Jubilee Year 2025 – Pilgrims of Hope

Many of the special events we celebrate happen on a yearly basis. We mark birthdays, anniversaries, and holidays. Similarly, the Church has holy days each year to mark the significant events in the life of Jesus and the feast days of saints. In addition to this, the Catholic Church does hold a Jubilee (or Holy Year) every 25 years. A Holy Year dedicated to the forgiveness of sins, conversion, and joyful celebration. Late Pope Francis has proclaimed Jubilee year 2025 emphasizing hope as the hallmark of the year: “A Holy Year marked by the hope that does not fade, our hope in God. May it help us to recover the confident trust we require in the Church and society, in interpersonal relationships, and in promoting the dignity of all persons and respect for God’s gift of creation.” Special graces for the forgiveness of sins are offered during the Jubilee Year. We are people of hope. God is not absent in suffering but is present, offering comfort, strength, and guidance through the Holy Spirit. That is our hope. Living with hope and sharing one's faith in difficult times can be a powerful witness to others, inspiring them to seek God's love and find their own source of hope. To live with hope strengthens us during the difficult seasons of life. Hope does not magically remove pain, anxiety or grief, but it gives us the confidence to know that someone accompanies us. The Lord sees us, walks with us, and stays with us. We are not alone. Hope is the courageous work of waiting for the solution, for things to get better. Christ is present in it. Thank you.

GRAINS OF KINDNESS

A grain of rice, a little food,
Can lift a heart, can raise a head.
A warm meal shared with gentle care,
Shows someone lost that love is there.
An empty plate, a silent cry,
We often pass the hungry by.
But when we stop, extend our hand,
We spread hope across the land.

No act too small, no heart too weak,
To help the tired, the poor, the meek.
Their hunger faded, smiles appeared
A spark of kindness grows inside.
My heart felt light, my soul felt full,
More than any meal could do.
For in their joy, I clearly learned what it truly means to be human and true.

Pilgrims of Hope: A Personal Reflection on the Jubilee

Holy Father Pope Francis desires for the Jubilee Year to be lived as a season of hope, reviving our trust in the profound love and mercy of God. St. Paul reminds us that “hope does not disappoint us” (Rom 5:5). This truth is the cornerstone of our faith; as we navigate the uncertainties of life, we realize that we are all, in essence, pilgrims on this earth.

As a pilgrim, I began my journey with hope, yet the future remains a mystery. The end of this journey is beyond my imagination, calling me to remain open to God’s mysterious designs, His ways, and His surprises. Throughout the passing days, weeks, and months, I have come to realize that a pilgrimage is not merely a physical trek to a holy site; it is an invitation to walk inwardly toward the sacred space that resides within me.

To renew my life’s journey, I have taken firm steps to deepen my spiritual discipline. I am dedicating extra time to meditation, personal prayer, and the devout celebration of the Holy Mass. By praying the Rosary and the Chaplet of Divine Mercy for various intentions, and by embracing penance and sacrifice, I seek to evaluate my behaviours, attitudes, desires, and motivations. This introspection is essential for my spiritual growth and for deepening my faith in God.

Through these practices, I have discovered that hope sees the reality beyond the clouds. It is certain of the light beyond the horizon. Hope is the force that moves us forward to reach the shore, even when the land is not yet visible.

In my healthcare ministry, I encounter many people living in hopelessness. They face uncertain futures, family struggles, and the heavy burden of sickness and poverty. In these moments, I strive to bring hope by offering kind words, understanding, and mercy. By stepping out of my comfort zone to offer my time, talents, and energy, I find that hope does not fail me. Instead, it provides the spiritual strength needed to embrace the "last, the least, and the lost" of our society—those struggling with depression, discouragement, and utter poverty.

Therefore, let us join our hands in prayer and unity. May hope rain down upon every individual, family, community, and the world at large. In doing so, may the faith of all people be strengthened by the enduring power of God’s love and mercy.

“Celebrating the Jubilee Year: A Time of Charity, Prayer, and Renewal

The Jubilee Year is a sacred time set aside for reflection, renewal, and acts of love. In our community, this special year has been marked by heartfelt commitment to both charitable outreach and deepening our spiritual life.

Throughout the Jubilee, we extended our help to those in need by providing medical aid to the poor, helping to construct a home for our cook who was without shelter, and supporting vocations in various ways. These actions reflect the true spirit of service and the call to love our neighbours as ourselves.

Spiritually, the community embraced the Jubilee with dedicated moments of prayer and worship. Every second Saturday, we come together for half-day Adoration, immersing ourselves in the presence of the Lord. Our renewal retreat enabled the community to refresh our faith and personal commitment to God and each other.

Prayer also remained central to our journey, as we prayed specially for the departed souls in the congregation of JMJ and all souls in purgatory. Daily Scripture reading and praying the rosary united us in contemplation and deepened our trust in God’s mercy. In addition, we have organized a renewal retreat that has revitalized our faith and unity, reminding us of our calling and mission

This Jubilee Year has been a beautiful blend of action and prayer, charity and contemplation. It reminds us that the path to holiness is paved both by loving service and heartfelt devotion. As we continue beyond this year, may the seeds sown through our efforts bear fruit in grace, peace, and unity within our community.

Nursing as a Pilgrimage: My Jubilee Diary of Mercy

"I was sick, and you cared for Me." (Matthew 25:36). When the Church announced the Jubilee Year 2025, I felt a gentle knock from God whispering, "Come, I want to show you something new." I did not realize then that this year would become a sacred diary written not in ink, but in tears, whispered prayers, and the soft rustling of my nurse's uniform through hospital corridors.

The Hospital as My Holy Ground: While many made pilgrimages to distant basilicas, my journey unfolded in the emergency wards and the ICU. For me, the hospital became the "Holy Door." Every time I entered a patient's room, I stepped into a sacred space, a place of fear, hope, and raw vulnerability. In these silent rooms, where machines measure fragile breaths, I found that mercy is unfiltered and grace is ever-present.

Meeting Christ in the Patient's Pain: Early in the year, I cared for an elderly woman admitted after a stroke. Lonely and frightened, she gripped my hand one evening and whispered, "Sister, don't leave me. I feel safe when you're here." In that moment, something inside me softened. I realized that my presence, my touch, and my smile were a form of holy ministry. It was as if Christ Himself was whispering: "You are my hands. You are my consolation." This taught me that the Jubilee is lived through small acts of tenderness offered quietly in the dark of night.

Crossing the Threshold of Grace: Months later, when I finally walked through the literal Holy Door at the cathedral, I did not go alone. I carried in my heart the faces of the dying, the hands I had held, and the families I had comforted. As I stepped across the threshold, the weight of my exhausting shifts broke open. I heard God whisper, "Let Me heal you too, my daughter." In that moment of spiritual renewal, I breathed freely for the first time in months.

The Quiet Miracles of Mercy:

The Jubilee taught me to recognize the miracles hidden in small things:

- A patient's first smile after days of agonizing pain.
- A child gifting me a drawing of "Sister with angel wings."
- An elderly man saying, "Your presence is my medicine."
- A colleague finding peace just by sharing a brief, quiet moment.

These encounters became my daily liturgy. On days when the hospital overflowed and my strength failed, I learned that mercy begins where my human capacity ends. I am not called to heal every wound, but to love every person entrusted to my care.

A Jubilee of the Heart: As this sacred year concludes, I realize the Jubilee did not just happen around me; it happened within me. God has rewritten my heart, turning exhaustion into compassion and duty into a hymn of praise. Nursing is no longer just my profession; it is my altar and my encounter with the suffering Christ. I walk forward now as more than a nurse, I am a bearer of God's gentle mercy.

My Personal Experience of the Year of Jubilee – 2025

"Do not take advantage of each other, but fear your God;
I am the Lord your God." (Leviticus 25:17)

The Year of Jubilee has been a season of profound grace, renewal, and spiritual reflection for me. In the biblical tradition, Jubilee is a sacred time of freedom, a year to return to God, restore relationships, and begin again with a renewed heart. For me, 2025 has been exceptionally special; it became a time to reflect on my journey, let go of past burdens, and experience God's unconditional love in a transformative way.

Jubilee reminds me that God always offers us another chance to grow and start afresh. It has invited me to strengthen my faith, deepen my prayer life, and open my heart to forgiveness and gratitude. This holy year has filled me with peace and renewed my hope. I feel God guiding me to grow in compassion, to rebuild broken relationships, and to live with a joyful heart and a generous spirit.

Healing and Letting Go:
One of the greatest blessings of this Jubilee year was the gift of healing. I realized that I was carrying burdens, old hurts, unspoken worries, and memories I had not fully surrendered. Jubilee helped me to let go. Through prayer and the support of my community, I felt God gently healing the wounds of my heart. I have come to understand that forgiveness, both giving and receiving, is the true freedom that Jubilee offers.

Growth in Community and Mission:
This year also brought new grace into my ministry and community life. I found myself more enthusiastic and committed to my responsibilities. Working alongside others became more joyful and meaningful. Jubilee reminded me that our mission is not merely work, but a sacred calling rooted deeply in love.

Experiencing God's Blessings:
Throughout the year, I experienced God's blessings in simple, ordinary moments: an encouraging word, a peaceful morning, an answered prayer, or unexpected help during a difficult time. These small signs reminded me that God walks with me every day. Jubilee opened my eyes to notice His grace more clearly and to trust His providence more deeply.

Conclusion:
The Year of Jubilee has been a beautiful journey of transformation. It has renewed my spirit, strengthened my faith, and filled my heart with gratitude. God restored my peace and gave me a new sense of hope. As this holy year comes to a close, I pray that the spirit of Jubilee continues to guide me every day, helping me live with joy, forgiveness, and trust in God's loving plan.

An Experience of Jubilee in Action

Every person who continues the journey of life on this eart does so because of hope, the hope that one day life will change, that one day success will come, that one day struggles will find an end, and that one day even an empty stomach will be filled. It is hope that gives strength to wake up each morning and courage to move forward despite uncertainty and pain. Without hope, life would lose its direction; with hope, even the hardest days carry the promise of a better tomorrow.

As part of the Jubilee Year 2025, inspired by the theme “Hope does not disappoint us,” the simple yet meaningful initiative of food distribution helped us experience the true spirit of the Jubilee, not merely as a celebration, but as a call to live out sharing, compassion, and hope in concrete ways. As food was distributed, the joy and relief on the faces of the poor were deeply moving. For many, the meal was more than nourishment; it was a sign that they were remembered, valued, and cared for. In that moment, food became a language of love, reminding them that they were not alone in their struggles.

For us, especially the youngsters, this experience was equally transformative. Working together, preparing, packing, and serving food, created a sense of unity and joy. We discovered that hope grows stronger when it is shared. The Jubilee theme, “Hope does not disappoint us,” came alive through our actions, as both those who received and those who served felt encouraged and blessed.

This Jubilee activity also helped us to grow in faith and responsibility. It taught us that real hope is not found in words alone, but in service. Even a small act, when done with love, has the power to bring light and joy into many lives.

While packing the groceries, my thoughts turned toward the poor and abandoned. I recalled a teaching I had heard in my childhood: if even a single grain of rice is wasted, it becomes a burden we carry; but if that same grain is shared with someone in need, it becomes a treasure stored in heaven. This reflection deeply touched my heart and made me more aware of the value of every small act of generosity.

I witnessed how a simple meal could restore dignity and offer comfort. Once again, the Jubilee theme stood before me as a lived reality. Hope was visible in grateful smiles and silent prayers.
May the loving Lord the source of all hope, renew our trust in Him, When our hearts are tired and our paths seem uncertain,

Teach us to hope even in darkness, to believe in change, and to see His light in every small act of love. Make us instruments of hope for the poor, the suffering, and the forgotten. May our words, actions, and service remind the world that hope does not disappoint.

Pilgrims of Hope:
A Call to Renewal and Reconciliation

"Personal Experience: Jubilee Year – Pilgrims of Hope

The Jubilee Year with the theme "Pilgrims of Hope" has been a deeply meaningful and grace-filled experience for me. It invited me to pause, reflect, and rediscover my faith journey in a more conscious way. Amid the routine of daily responsibilities, this Jubilee reminded me that life is not merely about reaching goals but about walking faithfully with God, trusting Him at every step.

During this Jubilee time, prayer took on a deeper meaning. I experienced a renewed closeness to God, especially during moments of silence and reflection. Like a pilgrim, I became more aware of my own weaknesses and limitations, yet I also felt strengthened by the hope that comes from God's mercy. The opportunity to seek forgiveness and reconciliation brought inner peace and a sense of spiritual freedom.

The theme "Pilgrims of Hope" also challenged me to look beyond myself. I became more sensitive to the struggles of others, students, colleagues, families, and the poor around me. Small acts of kindness, listening patiently, and offering encouragement became ways of sharing hope. I realized that hope is not only something we receive but something we are called to give.

There were moments of difficulty and uncertainty during this journey, but the Jubilee taught me to trust God more deeply. Walking as a pilgrim helped me to understand that even challenges are part of God's plan, shaping me with patience and faith. Each step, guided by prayer, became a reminder that God is always present.

This Jubilee Year has strengthened my commitment to live as a true Pilgrim of Hope, to carry faith in my heart, hope in my words, and love in my actions. It has inspired me to continue this journey beyond the Jubilee, trusting that God walks with me and calls me to be a sign of hope for others every day.

MY PERSONAL EXPERIENCE OF THE JUBILEE YEAR

As I reflect on the Jubilee Year 2025, the Gospel passage of Luke 4:16–22 comes alive in my heart. In proclaiming His mission of liberation and healing, Jesus offers hope to a wounded world. The Church's theme "Pilgrims of Hope" is deeply meaningful in a time when many long for light, comfort, and renewal. Christ, the Light of the World, calls us to walk in His footsteps and become signs of hope for others.

The Jubilee Year highlights three important dimensions: Communion, Participation, and Mission.

Communion draws its inspiration from the Holy Trinity, a perfect communion of love. The Church, too, is called to live unity in diversity, embracing people of different cultures and backgrounds. In a world marked by division and conflict, this Jubilee has challenged me to respect the dignity of every person and to build unity through understanding, forgiveness, and compassion in daily life.

Participation invites us to engage actively in works of mercy, charity, and reconciliation. Jesus reminds us through the widow's offering that God values the generosity of the heart more than the size of the gift. This Jubilee Year has renewed my commitment to serve with sincerity, through prayer, spiritual support, and small acts of kindness, knowing that even simple gestures can bring hope and healing.

Mission lies at the heart of my vocation. I believe that whatever is done for God is never in vain. Though aware of my limitations, I strive to offer my best for the greater glory of God. Inspired by the words of Jesus, "My grace is sufficient for you," I seek to share Christ's love with all, especially the marginalized, the abandoned, and the forgotten.

As the Jubilee Year 2025 draws to a close, I am grateful for the grace-filled journey it has been. As a Pilgrim of Hope, I am called to continue radiating Christ's light and love, bringing hope to the hopeless, comfort to the suffering, and warmth to a world in need.

Feast of Holy Family & Closing of Jubilee Year 2025

The Feast of the Holy Family and the Closing of the Jubilee Year 2025 were joyfully and prayerfully celebrated zonal-wise across the Congregation on 28 December 2025 at Bhopal, Nagarjunasagar, Kurnool–2, and JMJ Shantinilayam. United in spirit and purpose, the Sisters in each zone gathered to thank God for the abundant graces received during the Jubilee Year and to renew their commitment to live and witness the Gospel values exemplified by the Holy Family of Nazareth.

At all the zonal centres, the celebration commenced with a solemn prayer service at 11:00 a.m., preparing hearts for the Eucharistic celebration. This time of prayer enabled the Sisters to recall the grace-filled journey of the Jubilee Year, to reflect in gratitude, and to entrust the future of the Congregation to God's loving providence.

The Holy Eucharist, celebrated at 11:30 a.m., formed the heart of the day. The liturgy was enriched with meaningful symbols and gestures that expressed reverence, thanksgiving, and renewal. The Arati offered to the Bishop at the altar expressed the zonal communities' respect and gratitude for his pastoral presence and leadership. The garlanding of the Holy Family statue by the Bishop symbolized our renewed dedication to live lives rooted in faith, simplicity, unity, and love, after the model of the Holy Family.

The Mass introduction helped the assembly to enter deeply into the spirit of the Feast and the Jubilee closing. Through the homily, the Sisters were invited to recognize God's faithfulness throughout the Jubilee Year and to carry its spirit forward through lives of mercy, communion, and joyful service. The Prayer of the Faithful united all present in prayer for the Church, the Congregation, families, and the world.

The symbolic actions following the Eucharist powerfully marked the closing of the Jubilee Year. The lowering of the Jubilee scroll signified the completion of a sacred journey of grace and thanksgiving. The procession out of the chapel carrying the Jubilee logo expressed our call to move from celebration to mission, bearing the fruits of the Jubilee into everyday life and ministry. The solemn closing of the Holy Door reminded us that, although the Jubilee Year has concluded, the grace and renewal experienced continue to live on in our hearts.

Each zonal celebration concluded with a festive meal, joyfully shared, strengthening bonds of sisterhood, communion, and gratitude, echoing the spirit of the Eucharist and the family life of Nazareth.

Thus, the zonal celebrations at Bhopal, Nagarjunasagar, Kurnool–2, and JMJ Shantinilayam became a beautiful expression of unity in diversity, leaving the Sisters spiritually enriched and inspired to step forward with renewed faith, hope, and commitment, guided by the Holy Family and strengthened by the grace of the Jubilee Year 2025.

CHAPTER THEME

Jubilee 2025

The cross of Christ is the hope that cannot ever be abandoned because we are always in need of it, especially in the most difficult moments.

The Cross, in the shape of a sail, is transformed into an anchor that imposes itself over the waves in motion. A universal symbol of Hope.

The figures represent humanity from the four corners of the World. They are embracing each other to illustrate the solidarity between the peoples, as the first holds onto the cross.

The rough sea is a reminder of the difficulties of the pilgrimage of life. Often, personal events as well as those of the world, press on us more intensely, demanding a greater hope.
