JMJ Subodha

Pastoral and Evangelization Centre

"As part of the JMJ Hyderabad Province Chapter 2023 Action Plan, our Province discerned the need to form a full-time team of Sisters dedicated to pastoral and evangelisation ministry, especially for families, children, youth and community outreach. In response, the JMJ Subodha – Pastoral and Evangelisation Centre was inaugurated at Kurnool–3 on 8th July 2026. The inauguration was marked by a solemn Holy Mass officiated by Most Rev. Johannes Gorantla, Bishop of Kurnool, along with priests and Sisters.

Sr. Swarnalatha Ramaji
Directress

Sr. Theresa Berala
Co- Directress

As the Directress, I am deeply grateful for this mission. For me, Subodha is not simply a centre where programmes are conducted. It is a mission of presence—being with people, listening to them, accompanying them and bringing the love and hope of Christ into their lives.

My desire is to reach families through personal visits, prayer and accompaniment, while creating opportunities for children and youth to grow in faith, discover their talents and become active collaborators in the mission of the Church. Counselling and personal accompaniment will also be an important part of our ministry, offering a listening heart, encouragement and hope to those who struggle.

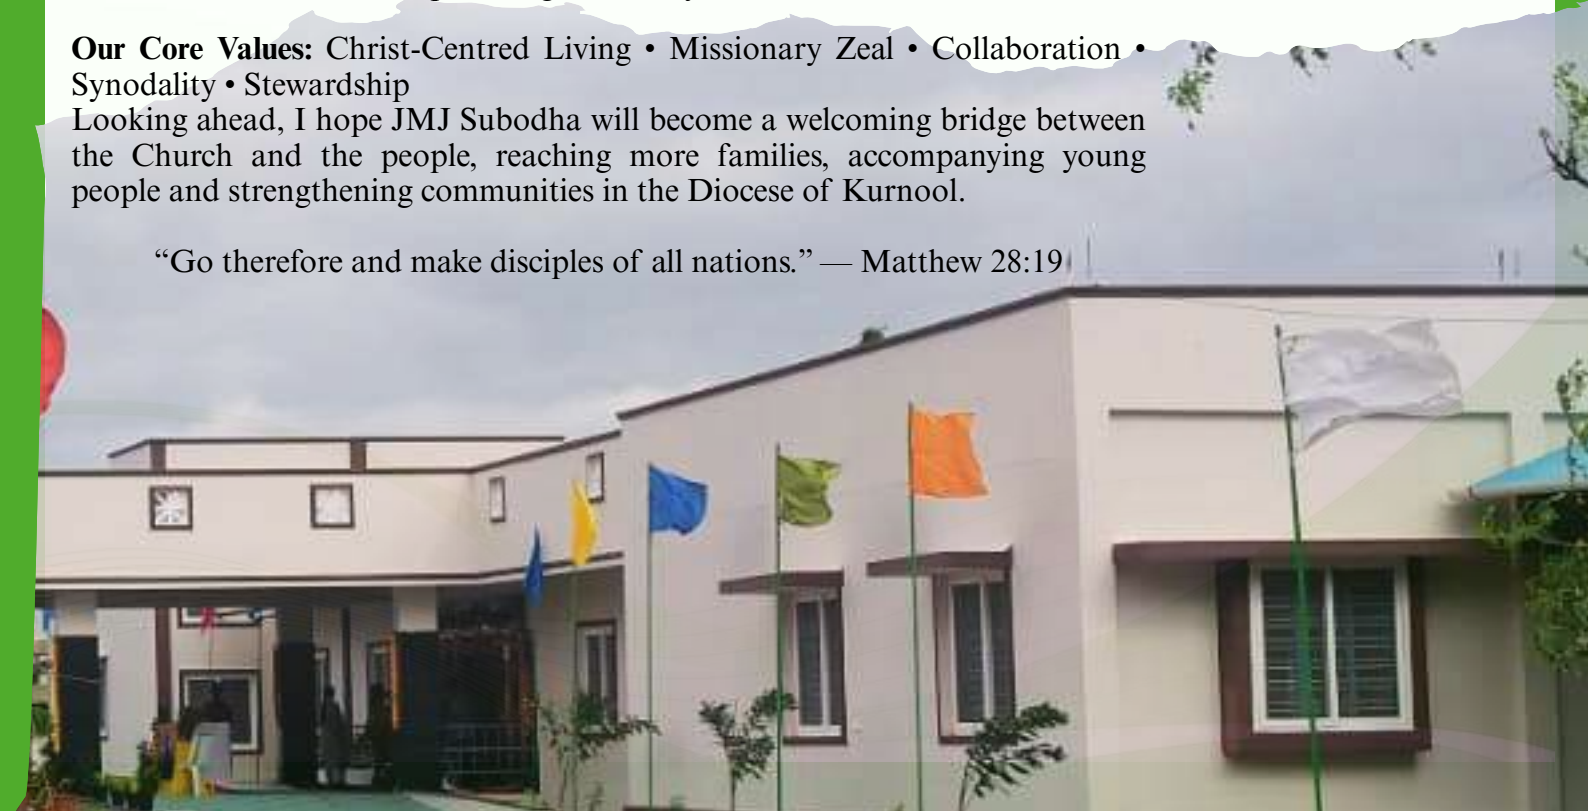

Our Vision: To see JMJ Subodha grow as a dynamic, Christ-centred centre of evangelisation and pastoral excellence, forming missionary disciples and responding creatively to the needs of people.

Our Mission: To proclaim the Gospel through pastoral accompaniment, faith formation, counselling, leadership development, digital evangelisation and collaborative outreach, empowering families, youth and communities..

Our Core Values: Christ-Centred Living • Missionary Zeal • Collaboration • Synodality • Stewardship

Looking ahead, I hope JMJ Subodha will become a welcoming bridge between the Church and the people, reaching more families, accompanying young people and strengthening communities in the Diocese of Kurnool.

"Go therefore and make disciples of all nations." — Matthew 28:19

A Testimony of God's Mercy and Heartfelt Gratitude

SR. ANNAMMA PALAGIRI

"I am alive today not only by the grace of God but also because of the countless prayers, sacrifices, love, and care of many compassionate hearts. My life is a testimony to God's infinite mercy and your unwavering support."

"I am alive today not only by the grace of God but also because of the countless prayers, sacrifices, love, and care of many compassionate hearts. My life is a testimony to God's infinite mercy and your unwavering support."

On 21 June 2025, I met with a very serious accident that left me critically injured. It was a painful and uncertain time for me and my family. Yet, through God's abundant mercy and the loving prayers, care, and support of so many people, I have been blessed with healing and renewed life.

With a heart full of gratitude, I first thank Sr. Mary and her Council for their constant prayers, loving concern, blessings, and encouragement throughout my journey of recovery.

I express my deepest gratitude to Sr. Pauline and her Council, whose generous love and compassionate concern ensured that I received the best possible medical treatment without ever considering the cost. Your selfless support, timely decisions, and unwavering commitment to my well-being became a true expression of God's providence. I remain forever grateful for your extraordinary generosity and care.

My sincere thanks to all the Provincial Superiors and their Councils, Superiors, Sisters, Fathers, family members, friends, and well-wishers who remembered me in your prayers, offered sacrifices, and encouraged me with your love and support. Your spiritual companionship gave me strength and hope during the most difficult days.

I offer special gratitude to Dr. Sr. Lalitha, Sr. Fathima, and all the Sisters who cared for me personally, and to Sr. Innamma Yeruva and her community, who lovingly looked after me during my seven months of recovery. Your compassion, patience, and selfless service became instruments of God's healing love.

My heartfelt appreciation also goes to the Doctors, Nurses, and medical staff of St. Philomena's Hospital, Bangalore, and St. Theresa's Hospital, Sanathnagar, for their professional expertise and dedicated care, and to the Fathers, Sisters, and the faithful of Krishnapuram Village for their constant prayers and encouragement.

Finally, I thank my beloved family members, relatives, friends, and well-wishers for every prayer, visit, phone call, message, and act of kindness. Your love reminded me that I was never alone.

This experience has strengthened my faith and taught me the immeasurable power of prayer and the beauty of compassionate love. Each one of you has been an instrument of God's healing grace in my life.

May the Lord abundantly bless you all with good health, peace, joy, and countless blessings. You will always remain in my grateful prayers.

When Youth Rise, Hope Rises!

SR. SWARNALATHA RAMAJI

"Young people carry within them the courage to dream, the energy to act and the power to transform."

" On 7 August 2026, the spirit of youth came alive at the St. Joseph Hostel Premises, Kurnool-2, as JMJ Subodha Centre brought young people together to celebrate International Youth Day. In collaboration with St. Joseph's Junior and Degree College for Women, the celebration became a joyful expression of friendship, talent, enthusiasm and hope.

For JMJ Subodha Centre, the celebration was more than a one-day programme. It reflected a deeper commitment to accompanying young people, listening to their dreams and creating spaces where they can grow in confidence, values, leadership and responsibility. The day offered the youth an opportunity to discover their strengths and celebrate the gift of being young.

The atmosphere was filled with energy as the students enthusiastically participated in sporting and recreational activities. Kho-Kho and Bombing the City brought excitement among the Intermediate students, while Throwball and Bombing the City created lively moments among the Degree students. Beyond the thrill of competition, the games taught lessons that reach far beyond the playing field—teamwork, discipline, perseverance, mutual encouragement and the courage to face challenges.

Every cheer, every effort and every smile became part of the celebration. Some returned as winners with prizes, while others returned with something equally valuable: new friendships, greater confidence and memories of a day in which they felt encouraged and valued. The prize distribution became a joyful acknowledgement of the commitment and enthusiasm shown by the participants.

At the heart of the celebration was a simple but powerful message: young people do not have to wait for tomorrow to make a difference. Their choices, talents, compassion and courage can shape the world today. When youth are trusted and accompanied, their energy can become a force for positive change in their families, communities, Church and society.

The initiative was strengthened by the prayerful support and good wishes of Rev. Sr. Pauline Nusi, Provincial Superior, Councillors Sr. Showrilu Gundiga, Sr. Nirmala Jaddu, and Sr. Thangam Puliyani. Though they were unable to be physically present, their prayers, encouragement and loving wishes accompanied the young people and added a special grace to the celebration.

The collaboration with St. Joseph's Junior and Degree College for Women contributed to the joyful participation of the students and made the occasion a meaningful experience of partnership. Such collaboration reminds us that when institutions and communities work together for young people, they can create wider spaces for growth, friendship and service.

As the celebration came to a close, the joy of the day remained in the hearts of the young participants. JMJ Subodha Centre's International Youth Day initiative was a celebration not only of youthful energy, but also of youthful possibility. It was a reminder to believe in young people, walk with them, empower their dreams and invite them to become builders of a more hopeful and compassionate world.

Young hearts..... Bold dreams..... Stronger communities... Brighter future..... When youth rise, hope rises....

Venerable Mary Glowrey:

A Life that Inspires and Challenges Me...

Over the past few months, I have had the privilege of participating in the monthly sessions on the life of Venerable Mary Glowrey JMJ. Each session has been a journey of listening, reflection and inspiration. The more I learn about her, the more I am touched by her deep love for God, her dedication to mission and her selfless service to people.

I was especially grateful for the opportunity given by the Spiritual Animation Team to share Chapter 10, "Geranium Leaves," from "A Nun Revolutionizes". The preparation itself became a spiritual experience for me. The more I entered into Sr. Mary Glowrey's story, the more I realised that her life is not simply a story to be read, it is a challenge to be lived. As I prepared for this sharing, I found myself deeply moved by Sr. Mary's life, especially by her words, "There was no turning back." Once she responded to God's call, she remained faithful to it despite distance, sacrifice, suffering and difficulties.

The "Geranium" that speaks of suffering, what touched me most in this chapter was the author's beautiful comparison of geranium leaves. Geranium leaves release its fragrance when it is crushed. In the same way, the sufferings, trials and disappointments of Sr. Mary Glowrey brought out the beauty and sweetness of her life and service.

This image pricked my heart. It made me ask myself: What comes out of me when I am "crushed" by difficulties, tiredness or disappointment? Do I allow difficulties to bring out greater patience, kindness and trust in God?

Another thought from the chapter that touched me deeply was Sr. Mary's reflection: "Unless the seed dies and falls into the earth, it will not bring forth fruit." She understood that a life given to God involves dying to oneself so that one's life may bear fruit for others.

"There was no turning back". These words continue to stay with me. Sr. Mary's life was not free from suffering. She experienced loss of family members, physical illness and repeated operations. Yet suffering did not make her abandon her mission. Even when she travelled to Europe and unexpectedly underwent surgery, her thoughts remained with the hospital and the mission in India. She even brought back much-needed medical equipment and worked to see it properly established.

This is a great challenge for me. My ministry is very different from her, but her example reminds me that every responsibility entrusted to me deserves faithfulness, diligence and love. Her words, "We must do our duty first class," speak strongly to me. She understood that even ordinary duties become meaningful when performed with dedication and as an offering to God. Mary Glowrey teaches me to remain rooted like the geranium: faithful through every season, allowing suffering to deepen rather than diminish my love, and offering myself generously wherever God has planted me.

Evaluation of the Tertianship Programme

Dindigul – Anugraha & Sirumalai

6 April 2026 – 22 July 2026

"To belong to God is my joy,..... To live my vows is my path,..... To love in community is my mission."

The Tertianship Programme was a grace-filled journey of prayer, reflection, learning, and personal transformation. Four tertians from two provinces began the programme at Mother Anugraha, where the warm welcome and support of the community helped us feel at home. Through various sessions, retreats, community experiences, and meaningful interactions, we were gradually led to deeper self-understanding and a stronger commitment to our vocation.

Major Areas of Formation:

- Consecrated and Vowed Life: We deepened our understanding of our call to belong completely to God and to live the vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience with love and fidelity.
- Community Life: We learned the importance of acceptance, patience, forgiveness, mutual understanding, and joyful service in community.
- Eucharistic-Centred Life: The Eucharist reminded us to carry Christ's spirit into our daily lives through humility, gratitude, forgiveness, and loving service.
- Spirit of the JMJ Charism: We were encouraged to remain open and adaptable, continually seeking God's will and responding generously to the needs of the Church and society.
- Prophetic Role and Social Justice: The sessions helped us understand our responsibility to respond courageously to injustice, poverty, discrimination, violence, and other social concerns.
- Social Analysis: We became more aware of present-day realities such as inequality, migration, unemployment, environmental concerns, and the loss of human values.
- Psycho-sexual Spirituality: We learned the importance of self-awareness, emotional maturity, healthy relationships, discipline, and the integration of our human and spiritual lives.
- Church Documents: These sessions deepened our understanding of the Church, our vocation, mission, community life, and the need to respond faithfully to the signs of the times.
- Eco-Spirituality: We were reminded of our responsibility to care for creation through interconnectedness, respect for nature, stewardship, simplicity, justice, and sustainability.
- Inner Healing: This experience helped us acknowledge our personal wounds, experience God's healing love, and move forward with greater peace, hope, and freedom.
- Media: We gained awareness of responsible and creative use of digital media and communication for mission and ministry.
- Ignatian Spirituality: Prayer, reflection, discernment, finding God in all things, and Magis helped us deepen our relationship with God and strengthen our commitment to JMJ life.

Conclusion:

The Tertianship Programme has been a transformative experience of grace and renewal. The retreat, spiritual inputs, classes, community experiences, and fellowship helped us grow in faith, self-awareness, maturity, and commitment to our vocation. We are grateful to the directors, resource persons, and community sisters of Mother Anugraha and Sirumalai for their guidance, prayers, care, and accompaniment. As we complete this journey, we move forward with renewed faith, deeper self-awareness, joyful commitment, and greater openness to God's will. We pray for the grace to live what we have received and to become faithful witnesses of Christ and the JMJ charism wherever we are sent. "Having encountered the Master in a profound way, we continue our journey with renewed zeal, trust, and complete surrender to God's loving providence."

A Journey of Grace and Gratitude

Theme: "With the Lord – To the World"

The day of our Final Profession was a long-awaited and grace-filled moment. Our hearts were filled with joy, gratitude, excitement, and a little nervousness as we prepared to pronounce our permanent "Yes" to God. We knew that this was not merely a celebration, but the beginning of a lifelong commitment to Christ and His mission.

Our theme, "With the Lord – To the World," beautifully expresses our vocation. With the Lord, we remain rooted in His love, drawing strength from Him to live our consecrated life. To the world, we are sent to share His love through our service, compassion, witness, and mission.

As we pronounced our vows of chastity, poverty, and obedience, we placed our past, present, and future into God's hands. We knew that we could not walk this journey by our own strength. The grace that called us has brought us this far, and His grace will continue to sustain us.

We are deeply grateful for our parents and families, whose love, sacrifices, prayers, and support have been an integral part of our vocation. We also thank our Superior General, Sr. Mary Karickakunnel, and Council Member, Sr. Valsa Koriath, for graciously receiving our vows and making us feel deeply welcomed into our Congregational family. We were blessed by the presence of His Eminence Cardinal Poola Anthony, who presided over the Holy Eucharistic Celebration.

We express our heartfelt gratitude to our Provincial Superior, Sr. Pauline Nusi, and her Council, our formators, superiors, sisters, friends, and all who have accompanied us with prayer, guidance, and encouragement.

Above all, we thank God, who called us, chose us, and continues to walk with us. Our Final Profession is not the end, but a new beginning, a deeper Yes to the Lord and a generous Yes to His people. The journey continues, not because we are strong, but because His grace is enough.

With the Lord

Temporarily Professed Sister

"Here I am, Lord; I come to do Your will."

— Hebrews 10:7

We, the Temporarily Professed Sisters of the Hyderabad Province, are deeply grateful to God for the grace-filled opportunity to participate in the seminar and village exposure programme. These days were a beautiful journey of learning, reflection, and growth, helping us to deepen our spiritual, personal, social, and communal lives. Each experience generously to God's call.

Fr. Nirikshan's session on "Spiritual Life in the Modern World" encouraged us to remain rooted in God through prayer, the Holy Eucharist, silence, and faithful commitment while facing the challenges of the present world.

Sr. Grecy's session on "Personality and Self-Awareness" helped us understand ourselves better, recognize our strengths and areas for growth, and develop emotional maturity and healthy relationships.

Sr. Pauline's session on "Basic Knowledge of Finance" provided practical insights into responsible stewardship and reminded us to use the resources entrusted to us with simplicity, accountability, and wisdom.

Sr. Swarna Yeruva's session on "Challenges in Community Life" highlighted the importance of mutual respect, patience, forgiveness, communication, and unity in building joyful and Christ-centred communities.

The two-day village exposure and vocation promotion programme was a meaningful missionary experience. Meeting families and interacting with the people enabled us to witness their simple way of life, deep faith, joys, and struggles. This experience broadened our understanding of mission, deepened our compassion, and inspired us to encourage young people to listen to and respond generously to God's call.

TWO MARKS:
A Lesson in Hope

A story is often told about an Indian professor who visited Russia to study its education system.

During his visit, he came across something that puzzled him deeply. He learned that the highest possible score in an examination was five, yet, according to the story, even a completely blank answer sheet could receive two marks. The idea seemed strange. How could a student who had written nothing receive any marks at all?

Unable to understand this approach, the professor asked a senior aducator, "How can you give marks to someone who has written absolutely nothing?"

The educator smiled and replied, "Zero means non-existence. As long as a student is standing before me, how can I call him zero?"

The words made the professor pause. The educator continued, explaining that perhaps the student had woken up before sunrise, travelled a long distance, struggled through difficult weather, studied hard, or simply became nervous during the examination. Perhaps the student had tried but was unable to express what he knew. Could one difficult day really erase all the effort that had brought that student there?

The educator then shared a profound truth:

A teacher's responsibility is not to convince a child that he is nothing, but to help him believe that he can stand up and try again.

Whether or not this story reflects an actual Russian examination practice, its message carries a powerful lesson. Education is not merely about marks, grades, and results. It is also about understanding the person behind the answer sheet.

How quickly we label people:

failure	average	weak	not good enough	finished

- One exam cannot measure an entire life.
- One mistake cannot define a person's future.
- One bad chapter cannot determine the whole story.

Every person has struggles that others may never see. Behind a poor result there may be fear, disappointment, family difficulties, lack of confidence, or simply a day when things did not go well. What such a person may need most is not another judgment, but someone who says,
"You can try again. I believe in you."

This is especially true in education. A good teacher does more than impart knowledge. A good teacher notices potential, encourages effort, restores confidence, and creates the courage to begin again. Sometimes, a few words of encouragement can make a greater difference than a high mark.

The same lesson applies beyond the classroom. In our families, communities, workplaces, and relationships, we can be quick to judge others by their failures. But people are always more than their mistakes. They are capable of learning, growing, changing, and beginning again.

Perhaps, then, the real meaning of those "two marks" is not about examination scores at all. They can remind us that no human being should ever be treated as zero.

The next time someone is struggling, instead of asking, "Why did you fail?", perhaps we can ask:
"How can I help you try again?"

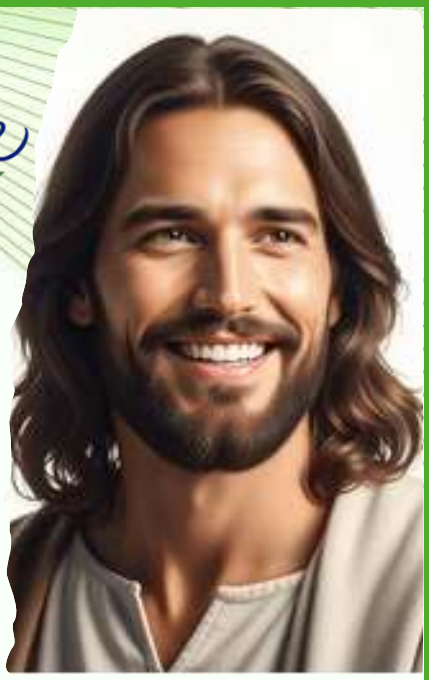

Because people do not grow best when they are constantly judged.
They grow when they are understood, encouraged, and given hope.

A person may fail a test, but a person is never a failure. ♡

Experience of the "Come and See" Programme

God does not call the qualified;
He qualifies those whom He calls.

The "Come and See" Programme, held from 5th to 7th May 2026 was a grace-filled three-day vocation experience that brought together nearly fifty young participants from different places. It was a beautiful opportunity to deepen our faith, understand ourselves better, and prayerfully reflect on God's call in our lives.

The programme began with prayer, interactive sessions and meaningful activities that helped us grow in self-awareness, responsibility and wise decision-making. We reflected on our gifts, talents and values and learned that vocation is not merely about choosing a way of life, but about discovering God's loving plan and responding generously to it.

The reflections on the Holy Bible encouraged us to listen to God's Word and trust His guidance. A particularly inspiring part of the programme was listening to the personal vocation stories of the Sisters. Their joyful witness, experiences and challenges helped us understand the beauty of consecrated life and encouraged us to listen attentively to God's voice.

The programme also provided opportunities for fellowship, sharing and friendship. Through these experiences, we realized that each person has a unique vocation and that discernment requires prayer, patience, courage and openness to God.

Conclusion:
The "Come and See" Programme was more than a three-day event; it was a journey of faith, self-discovery and discernment. We returned home with grateful hearts, renewed hope and a deeper desire to discover and follow God's plan for our lives. "Every vocation begins with an open heart willing to listen to God's voice." We sincerely thank God, the organizers, resource persons and all the Sisters who lovingly accompanied us and made this enriching experience possible.

With gratitude,
The Candidates

Independence Day

A Celebration of National Pride

D.Vandana Sagar
MSc Nursing

The College Assembly Ground of P.G.F College of Nursing, Suryapet, resonated with patriotism and national pride as students, faculty members and distinguished guests came together to commemorate India's Independence Day on 15 August 2026. The celebration reflected the enduring ideals of freedom, unity, discipline and responsibility, while fostering a strong sense of national consciousness among the student community.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS:

The programme was graced by Mr. Purushotham Reddy, District Transport Officer, Suryapet, and Dr. Ammulya Nimmala, Medical Officer, UPHC, Ambedkar Nagar, as distinguished guests. They were welcomed with a march past and gifted saplings as a token of appreciation and respect.

CEREMONIAL BEGINNING:

The National Flag was ceremonially hoisted, followed by the singing of the National Anthem. The programme also featured Holy Book Readings from the Bhagavad Gita and the Holy Bible, symbolising harmony, mutual respect and unity in diversity.

MUSIC, DANCE & STUDENT PARTICIPATION:

The cultural segment of the programme showcased the active participation and artistic talents of the students. A patriotic group song was presented by eight students representing all four years of B.Sc. Nursing, with two students participating from each semester.

The programme was further enriched by two vibrant group dance performances presented by the 6th Semester and 8th Semester B.Sc. Nursing students. The performances added color, energy and patriotic fervor to the occasion and were warmly appreciated by the gathering.

The programme was effectively compered by Rishitha of the 6th Semester and Vyshnavi of the 8th Semester, whose coordination contributed to the smooth progression of the event.
Student speeches also formed an important part of the programme, reflecting on the significance of Independence Day and the responsibilities associated with freedom.

WORDS OF INSPIRATION:

Freedom is meaningful when it is guided by discipline, integrity and service.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Purushotham Reddy, District Transport Officer, Suryapet, and Dr. Ammulya Nimmala, Medical Officer, UPHC, Ambedkar Nagar, encouraged the students to uphold discipline, professional etiquette, ethical values and a strong commitment to society.

FREEDOM WITH RESPONSIBILITY:

The messages shared during the celebration held particular relevance for nursing students, reminding them that professional excellence extends beyond academic achievement and requires compassion, ethical practice, accountability and dedicated service to humanity.

A MEANINGFUL CONCLUSION:

The celebration concluded on a joyful note with the distribution of sweets. The occasion successfully combined ceremonial dignity, cultural expression and meaningful student participation, making it a memorable celebration for the entire P.G.F College of Nursing Institution.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT:

Gratitude to everyone whose guidance, encouragement and participation made the celebration successful.
The successful conduct of the Independence Day Celebration 2026 was made possible through the valuable support and encouragement of the college management. Special gratitude is extended to Principal Sister Vasantha, Vice Principal Sister Rojamma, and Sister Jyoshna of the Administration Department. Their constant guidance, encouragement and support were instrumental in the successful organisation of the programme and served as a strong foundation throughout the planning and execution of the event. With their guidance and encouragement, Ms. Dyapa Vandana Sagar, M.Sc. Nursing, had the opportunity to lead and coordinate the programme as the organiser. Sincere appreciation is also extended to all the students, faculty members and participants whose collective efforts contributed to the successful celebration of India's Independence Day.
